Dear All,

It is with great pride and pleasure that we announce the organization of the 3rd Panhellenic Congress on Continuing Education in Internal Medicine with International Participation. The official annual congress of the Internal Medicine Society of Greece (I.M.S.G.) will be held on February 22-26 2017, in Thessaloniki, the enchanting birthplace of Alexander the Great.

The five-day scientific event, which has already become a major institution in the Greek scientific community will provide a top notch opportunity for all our European colleagues to exchange views with Greek internists and delve into the rich heritage of the ancient Greek Macedonian culture, culminating in a visit to the world famous historical site of Vergina and Amphipolis.

Extending our warmest wishes for a productive season we look forward to welcoming you in Thessaloniki.
